Election/Restrictions

1. Claims 2-6, 10-12 & 18 are withdrawn from further consideration pursuant to 37 CFR 1.142(b) as being drawn to a nonelected species, there being no allowable generic or linking claim. Election of Species III shown in Figs. 5-7 was made without traverse in the reply filed on April 22, 2005.

In the reply applicant argues that claim 1 is generic to all species. However, claim 1 does not read on the species shown in Fig. 4 because that species does not read on the limitations at lines 15 & 16 of the claim. See page 14, lines 9, 23 & 24.

Drawings

2. The drawings are objected to because they are misleading. The instant invention is a cross groove joint. Per the SAE Universal Joint and Driveshaft Design Manual, such a joint is supposed to have a smaller axial stroke capability when compared with other (i.e. non-cross groove) end motion type joints. However, the drawings of the instant invention give the appearance that the instant invention has the same axial stroke capability of applicant's non-cross groove end motion type joint shown in US 2005/0130750.

3. Corrected drawing sheets in compliance with 37 CFR 1.121(d) are required in reply to the Office action to avoid abandonment of the application. Any amended replacement drawing sheet should include all of the figures appearing on the immediate prior version of the sheet, even if only one figure is being amended. The figure or figure number of an amended drawing should not be labeled as "amended." If a drawing figure is to be canceled, the appropriate figure must be removed from the replacement sheet, and where necessary, the remaining figures must be renumbered and appropriate changes made to the brief description of the several views of the drawings for consistency. Additional replacement sheets may be necessary to show the renumbering of the remaining figures. Each drawing sheet submitted after the filing date of an application must be labeled in the top margin as either "Replacement Sheet" or "New Sheet" pursuant to 37 CFR 1.121(d). If the changes are not accepted by the examiner, the applicant will be notified and informed of any required corrective action in the next Office action. The objection to the drawings will not be held in abeyance.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

4. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(e) the invention was described in (1) an application for patent, published under section 122(b), by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent or (2) a patent granted on an application for patent by another filed in the United States before the invention by the applicant for patent, except that an international application filed under the treaty defined in section 351(a) shall have the effects for purposes of this subsection of an application filed in the United States only if the international application designated the United States and was published under Article 21(2) of such treaty in the English language.

5. Claims 1, 7-9, 13-17, 19 & 20 rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(e) as being anticipated by Booker, US 2003/0045365. Fig. 1 shows an energy absorbing plunging VL joint 12 comprising: an outer joint 23 having a plurality of outer tracks 31 and an extended axial range; an inner joint 25 having a plurality of inner tracks 33 and an inner extended range; a plurality of balls 28 each guided in a normal range of a corresponding pair of outer and inner tracks, wherein each corresponding pair of tracks form angles of intersection with respect to an axis, the angles being identical in size, but set in opposite directions (this is a conventional feature in VL joints); a ball cage 26 having a plurality of cage windows 30 each accommodating one of the balls and which hold the balls in a plane; one or more tapered track surfaces 34 distal to the normal axial range that interferes with at least one of the balls when the joint is operated beyond the normal axial range; and a grease cap 44 sealingly attached to the outer joint part that is displaceable (see Fig. 4) when the joint has axial travel beyond the outer extended axial range. Fig. 1 shows the energy absorbing plunging constant velocity joint 12 in combination with a hollow shaft 20 connected to the outer joint part 23 and a connecting shaft 18 connected to the inner joint part 25.

Response to Arguments

6. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 1, 7-9, 13-17, 19 & 20 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Conclusion

7. The prior art made of record and not relied upon is considered pertinent to applicant's disclosure. The GKN Catalog shows the defining features of a VL joint are ball groove pairs having angles identical in size, but set in opposite directions.

8. Applicant's submission of an information disclosure statement under 37 CFR 1.97(c) with the fee set forth in 37 CFR 1.17(p) on August 10, 2005 prompted the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP

Art Unit: 3679

§ 609.04(b). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37

CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the mailing date of this final action.
